Aid To The Church In Need Appeal: The weekend of 28/29 July John Ravi, Area Secretary for Aid to the Church in Need for the Archdiocese of Westminster, will make an appeal during all Masses. Aid to the Church in need is a Pontifical charity which works in 140 countries, helping persecuted and oppressed Christians around the world through prayer, information and action. At the moment it is involved in the frontline works in Syria and Iraq where displaced families are still living under threat of violence, and unable to return to their homes. The harsh reality is that their daily life is still a struggle for survival. These families have had to give up everything for their faithfulness to Christ. We are asking parishes once again to support these families in Syria and Iraq with Survival Packs - emergency aid to help them until it is safe for them to rebuild their lives and communities. If you wish to get involved in the charity, or if you wish to be a parish representative, please contact John on 07727442510, 020 8642 8668 or you can go online www.acnuk.org.

The Church In Need In The Middle East: the number of Christians is deteriorating in the Middle East. It is very sad to see this in the cradle of Christianity. Here is a breakdown. Egypt: Coptic Orthodox is the largest Christian denomination both in the region and in Egypt, where its members make up some 10 percent of the population. They have little representation in government though, and have been targeted in anti-Christian attacks that have multiplied since the Islamic State group appeared. Since December 2016 more than 100 people have been killed in anti-Christian attacks in Egypt claimed by IS. In April 2017 Copts were targeted in bombing attacks on two churches on Palm Sunday, killing 45 people. The following month, gunmen shot dead about 30 Christians who refused to renounce their faith. Iraq: Chaldean Christians numbered 1.5 million in Iraq before the 2003 fall of Saddam Hussein but their numbers have since plummeted to less than 500,000. Many fled from the sectarian violence that followed Saddam's ouster. They were also pushed out of parts of northern Iraq in 2014 as IS jihadists seized control of vast swathes of territory. Syria Catholics and Orthodox comprise the majority of Christians in Syria, where they represented between five and nine percent of the population before civil unrest erupted in 2011. Chaldean bishop of Aleppo, half of Syria's 1.5 million Christians have fled the country to escape the war. Syria's Christians have mostly sought neutrality throughout the conflict, while fearing the rise of jihadist groups. Many backed President Bashar al-Assad for that reason. Churches have been damaged or destroyed since 2011 and large numbers of Christians have been murdered or abducted. Israel, Palestinian Territories There are around 160,000 Israeli Christians, the vast majority of them Arabs in the north, representing about two percent of the population. In the West Bank – mainly in Bethlehem and Ramallah – and East Jerusalem, there are nearly 50,000 Christians of various denominations. Although now a minority in Bethlehem, where Jesus was born, Christians play a central economic role. In the Gaza Strip the number of Christians, mostly Greek Orthodox, is in steady decline since the Islamist Hamas movement took power in 2007. Jordan: Greek Orthodoxy and Catholicism are the largest Christian denominations in Jordan, where they make up about six percent of the population. There are Christian members of parliament and members of the community play prominent rolls in society

Novena in Honour of St Ignatius of Loyola 22nd to 30th July 2018. St Ignatius of Loyola (23 October 1491 – 31 July 1556) founded the religious order called the Society of Jesus (Jesuits). At the Battle of Pamplona in 1521 he was gravely injured during the war. A cannonball hit him and wounded his legs. While recovering from surger, he underwent a spiritual conversion which led to his experiencing a call to religious life. Father Joachim De Melo, S.J. will lead the Novena and give us a glimpse of the life of Ignatius over the nine days of the novena.
